

While at Loomworks Apparel / P.J. Salvage, I developed special-makeup women's loungewear and sleepwear for Kohl's, building a tightly merchandised capsules that reads clearly in both e-commerce and on-floor presentation. The collection blends fashion forward solids and playful novelty prints across a fresh, feminine palette aqua seafoam and sky blues, soft pinks, cream neutrals, and grounded blacks. Engineered into coordinated sets and mix-and-match separates. Executed across single jersey, poplin, lightweight flannel, and other novelty fabrics. The line delivers elevated comfort and boutique polish while remaining commercially scalable for department-store distribution, including Kohl's special makeup.
